COURSE DESCRIPTION:

(3 credits)

Prerequisites: BI 400/500D and BI411/511D

Grading: Letter grade or pass/fail

This course is a continuation of BI 400/500D, providing further introduction to the basics of biblical Hebrew. It also involves the application of exegetical methods with the Hebrew text. This course is highly recommended for certain denominational requirements (please check with your governing body) and may be taken as an elective.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

During this course students will continue the objectives of BI 400/500D:

1. Demonstrate a thorough understanding of the fundamentals of biblical Hebrew grammar.
2. Demonstrate knowledge of basic biblical Hebrew vocabulary.
3. Demonstrate proficiency in translating passages from the Hebrew Bible using a morphological aids.
4. Demonstrate competence working with Hebrew exegetical tools.
5. Acquire a conceptual framework for further learning.

In keeping with the stated purpose of the M.Div. degree (“to serve the one God – Father, Son, and Holy Spirit – and prepare women and men for faithful, compassionate, and effective pastoral ministry”), this course meets the following M.Div. curricular objectives:

- Interpret the Christian Scriptures through faithful exegesis and in light of the Christian tradition.
- Preach the Word of God with faithfulness and clarity.

It also contributes to the following M.A.M.C. curricular objective:

- Articulate and reflect critically and constructively on the biblical and theological foundations of God’s mission to the world.

TEXT(S), READINGS, AND MATERIALS:

Required Textbooks from Last Semester:

1. Futato, Mark D. Beginning Biblical Hebrew. Winona Lake, IN: Eisenbrauns, 2005. ISBN: 978-1575060224.
2. Pratico, Gary D., and Miles V. Van Pelt. Zondervan Get an A! Study Guides: Biblical Hebrew. Grand Rapids: Zondervan, 2005. ISBN: 978-0310262954.
3. Schlimm, Matthew R. 70 Hebrew Words Every Christian Should Know. Nashville: Abingdon, 2018. ISBN: 978-1426799969.

Additional Required Textbooks for This Semester:

4. Davis, Ellen F., and Margaret Adams Parker. Who Are You, My Daughter? Reading Ruth through Image and Text. Louisville: Westminster John Knox Press, 2003. ISBN: 978-0664231835.
5. Holladay, William Lee. A Concise Hebrew and Aramaic Lexicon of the Old Testament. Grand Rapids: Eerdmans, 1972. ISBN: 978-0802834133.
6. Biblia Hebraica Stuttgartensia. Accepted publishers include the American Bible Society and the German Bible Society (ISBN: 978-1598561609 or 978-1598561630). Please avoid the one with the subtitle “A Reader’s Edition” as it will not work. If the cost of this volume is prohibitive, consider co-purchasing with a classmate and sharing.

Note: Students are not expected to purchase expensive software. The internet offers several free resources for working with Hebrew.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

The final grade for the course is based on [1] quizzes (20%), [2] translation homework (40%), and [3] a text analysis assignment (35%), and [4] a text analysis pre-assignment (5%). See also the note below on class participation.

Quizzes (20%): Students will take four closed-book quizzes on material from Futato. The first will be review. The others (due subsequent Tuesdays in February) will cover new material. See esp. course objectives 1 & 2.

Translation & Exegesis Homework (40%): By Tuesday evening of most weeks in March and April, students should use Moodle to answer a set of questions on the translation passage assigned for that week. See esp. course objectives 3, 4, & 5.

Text Analysis Pre-Assignment (5%): By a specified date, students should choose a passage for their text analysis assignment from a set range of books/chapters that will be provided ahead of time.

Text Analysis Assignment (35%): At the end of the semester, students will write a final paper exploring translation, textual variants, historical context, literary context, literary artistry, canonical context, and theological/homiletical significance of the Hebrew text. Detailed instructions will be on Moodle. See esp. course objectives 3, 4, & 5.

Class participation: Class participation is assumed. Thus, students should watch all lectures. Failing to do so can result in a significant reduction of the final grade. Similarly, students should abide by UDTs's Netiquette Guidelines (or face grade penalization). Students who ask questions or answer them on Moodle can increase their overall grade, particularly when posts are made frequently and display high quality (e.g., are clear and without errors). See esp. course objectives 3, 4, & 5.

GRADING:

There are four components by which students are graded: [1] quizzes (20%), [2] translation homework (40%), and [3] exegetical homework (35%).
